

Solent Branch Competition 2024 - Under 22 Category 18.00 - 19th March 2024

Call for entrants and invitation for audience members – Portsmouth heat

For entrants this is the opportunity to give a 20 minute presentation on an aerospace topic to a live audience. Presentations will be followed by a Q&A session.

From team scrum meetings to global streamed events, effective presentation counts. Great ideas, analyses, designs, strategies, etc. only come to fruition if conveyed and sold effectively.

This is an opportunity to practice presenting and gain experience of doing so in a competitive environment. Entrants are requested to provide an original presentation on any aspect of aerospace.

Heats will be held in both Southampton and Portsmouth to cover the Branch's catchment area.

Registration details for entrants provided below.

A panel will judge results of both heats and the overall winners will be announced at the Branch AGM in May.

Overall winners will receive a prize of £250, with £125 being awarded to the runner up. All entrants will receive a certificate of participation.

The winning entries will be entered in the Society's prestigious NE Rowe Competition, if the winner wishes. The winner of this competition receives a medal and £500, together with national and international publicity.

The audience get to hear from the next generation of aerospace leaders and make this experience memorable and valuable for them through sharing in their enthusiasm for the topics and by participating in the Questions & Answers sessions.

No advance registration required by the audience.

Venue:

University of Portsmouth
Portland Building
Lecture room PO1.74
Portsmouth PO1 2UP

Programme:

17.30 – Doors open
18:00 – Presentations start
20:00 – End

Registration:

Registration by entrants with abstract (max 500 words) required by e-mail no later than 4th March.
Email: solent@aerosociety.com

Contact:

Email: solent@aerosociety.com

No registration required by those in the audience

Entry and attendance open to all – members and non-members welcome
Admission Free